Aerial shot of Maryville College, 1937

Since 1819, Maryville College has been a center for tradition and change. With 2007 being the year of major advances, the Chilhowean staff believed it would only be appropriate to document the changes and traditions from over the years.

A message from the 1907 Chilhowean Editors:
 "To commemorate some days well spent; to re-incarnate the spirit of loyalty for our Alma Mater; to present to others the varying features of College Life; to celebrate the deeds of glorious varsities; to exaggerate some of the characteristics and habits of our fellow-students and faculty; to perpetuate reminiscences of undergraduate days; with love and charity to all-- this has been our task and pleasure. Judge thou, dear reader, in the spirit of our work, how well our task is done."

Arr! Shiver me timbers!
The lass did it, me buckos!

For new adventures on them thar seven seas.

So avast, ye salty landlubbers and scallywags,
Join in the shanty and grab a grog
And wish the Capn smooth sailin and Plenty of doubloons in the booty.

William York McCurdy

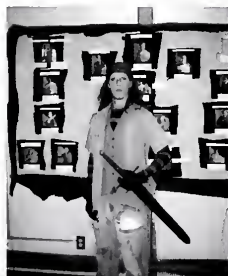

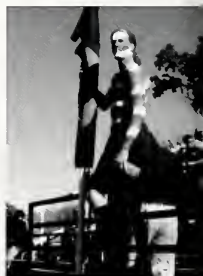

Ever since the first day you set foot on campus you have made Maryville College your own. You have succeeded not only in getting your academic degree, but you have made your college career rich by the friends you have made and by your participation in activities that make a campus a community. You have faced your share of challenges and in doing so you have grown and adapted when necessary, all the while building upon your strength of character. All these experiences serve to mold you and prepare you for the calling that is yours. You will find that your college years make the stuff of great memories and long lasting relationships. We hope that you enjoy the few remembrances that we have included here. We are so very proud of you, William, and we love you much more than we are able to express. We look forward to your continued success as you journey toward your goals.

Mom and Dad

*Thomas, we love you,

Commit your works to the Lord and your plans will be established.

What will you do after you turn the last page and close this book?
Will you fight and sneer and make fun of and discriminate and hate?
Or will you accept, enjoy, laugh, and love?

Thanks to everyone who helped produce this yearbook, especially the staff members and Michelle. This couldn't get done without you.

Also, thanks to everyone for a great four years at Maryville College. I can't wait to see the changes that are in store.
